To All Gallery Walk Participants and Guests:

You may notice something different during the Gallery Walk this month. Because of an anonymous (coward's) complaint, we have been informed that any business or gallery serving wine without a liquor license would be in violation of STATE LAW. We know that having wine at art openings is about as old as ART itself, I'm sure that Ugg the caveman served some sort of fermented beverage when he had the neighbors over to see the goat drawings displayed in his cave. However, if we were to offer you a small glass of wine we could be ticketed and fined for distributing without a license.

We have been working with all interested parties to come up with a solution that would allow those who wish to serve wine, to so in compliance with state law. Until then please enjoy the punch.
